

THE STORY

Ri's Guys is a self made company centered around all things art! This is a curated collection of items made by myself, Riley Huebner, as I move through my many phases of artistic styles.

Growing up, I was surrounded by a plethora of crafts and along with my older more experienced sister, took on many different artistic hobbies. We painted, drew, mosaiced, woodburned, sewed, sculpted, made stamps, woodworked, and even went through a gourd decorating phase. Growing up trying so many forms of art made me realize that I never have to truly decide what kind of artist I am going to be, and that's a beautiful thing. This realization is where Ri's Guys was born.

THE ART

I make art products for anyone and everyone, and if you're not interested in one form odds are you'll be interested in something else! Or something coming up!

The possibilities are endless. The ever changing styles only mean that you have to snag what you want when you want it, because I might be on to producing something brand new the next day. If something peaks my interest, I simply cannot rest until I have tried it myself. At the end of the day, all I hope is that I've brought forth positivity with my brand and created beautiful eye catching art that makes you smile, no matter what it is.

Welcome to my little world of art! It's an all inclusive space filled with lots of possibilities, I hope to see you join me!
